

Dog Breeders

- Dog breeders must provide the purchaser with a bill of sale, seller's warranty, any necessary registration papers, a record of shots, the breeder's contact information, and a refundable 72-hour period to have the puppy checked by a vet. If the vet determines that the puppy is sick or has been misrepresented to the purchaser and will detail this information in writing, the breeder is required to refund the full amount of the purchaser's money upon the purchaser's immediate return of the puppy. If the market office becomes aware of a breeder who does not follow this policy, that breeder will be banned from selling at Third Monday McKinney Trade Days. Animal Breeders must have a license and bond in Texas and must have insurance to be a vendor at Third Monday McKinny Trade Days.
